Brief Description

The Joint Bachelor of Arts is an interdisciplinary programme at TU Darmstadt. It consists of the studies of two different subjects/components.

Sociology addresses the social order of human life and the institutions created thereby. The programme is thus especially suitable for those who are who want to understand how society works and what forces influence us – politics, economics, or ideas. Knowledge of recent and contemporary history and mathematical skills are beneficial. An excellent command of the German written and spoken language is a central requirement.
