

Welcome!

TU Darmstadt is distributed over two central campuses known as Campus Stadtmitte (S) and Campus Lichtwiese (L) in addition to three other smaller locations which are: Botanischer Garten (B), Hochschulstadion (H) and Windkanal / August-Euler-Flugplatz (W) in Griesheim, (Botanical Garden, University Stadium and Wind Tunnel / August Euler airfield).

Campus Lichtwiese on the south-eastern outskirts of Darmstadt was founded in the 1960s and is home to various science and engineering departments.

A variety of university sports facilities, such as the university swimming pool and sports fields, are located in the Hochschulstadion (University Stadium) as well as the Otto Wolfskehl House (TU Darmstadt's international guest house).

The Institutes of Biology and Geosciences are located at the Botanischer Garten Campus, where you can also embark on a voyage of discovery into the world's flora in the 200-year-old Botanical Garden.

How to find us

Darmstadt is just 30 kilometres from Frankfurt am Main. Other cities, such as Mainz, Wiesbaden, Heidelberg and Mannheim, are within easy reach.

By bus and train

There are direct Deutsche Bahn train links between Frankfurt, Mainz, Wiesbaden, Aschaffenburg, Mannheim, Heidelberg and Darmstadt. You can get to all TU locations by tram and bus from the Hauptbahnhof (Central Station). Campus Lichtwiese can also be reached by the Odenwaldbahn (VIAS) directly from Frankfurt Hauptbahnhof via Darmstadt Nordbahnhof and Darmstadt Ostbahnhof.

By car

To get to Darmstadt by car take the A5 and A67 (exit "Darmstädter Kreuz"), and follow the signs to "Vivarium, Lichtwiese" (B26)

By air

You can use the "AirLiner" (RMV public transport service) to travel directly from Frankfurt Airport to the "Luisenplatz" stop then continue on to Campus Lichtwiese by tram or bus

Public transport

Current timetables and connections can be found at www.rmv.de or www.heagmobilo.de
