

Funding databases

DAAD, the German Academic Exchange Service, promotes the international exchange of students and scientists, awards scholarships and offers continuing further education programmes.

<https://www.daad.de/en/>

ELFI, the Service Centre for Electronic Research Funding Information, maintains a database that collects information on research funding and prepares it for specific target groups.

https://www.elfi.info/e_index.php

Please note that you can only access this service from the TU Darmstadt network or with your TU Darmstadt email address.

EURAXESS provides information and support for mobile researchers. This portal contains practical information on working and living in Germany as well as information on job and funding opportunities.

<https://www.euraxess.de/>

FIT, Research, International Affairs, Transfer, provides information on research funding opportunities, events, calls for proposals and much more.

<https://www.uni-kassel.de/uni/en/research/research-and-graduate-support/research-support/fit-network.html>

Please note that you can only access this service from the TU Darmstadt network or with your TU Darmstadt email address.

GERiT, German Research Institutions, provides an overview of the 33,000 research institutions in Germany.

<https://www.gerit.org/en/>

Horizon Europe provides information on funding opportunities, regulations and specific advice and training services in Germany.

https://research-and-innovation.ec.europa.eu/funding/funding-opportunities/funding-programmes-and-open-calls/horizon-europe_en

NSF, the National Science Foundation, is an independent agency of the United States government whose mission is to support research and education in all fields of science.

<https://www.nsf.gov/>