The Konrad Zuse School of Excellence in Learning and Intelligent Systems (ELIZA) is a graduate school in the field of artificial intelligence (AI) funded by the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research and the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD).

TU Darmstadt has launched a call for applications for excellent students who have applied for the new M.Sc. programme in Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning at TU Darmstadt.

Funding Lines:

- Research-Oriented Master's Scholarships enable outstanding Master's students to prepare for a later doctorate and to work with ELIZA research groups even before writing their thesis.
- Konrad Zuse Master's in AI Scholarships support excellent Master's students from underrepresented groups of all backgrounds to study AI in Germany.

Scholarship Duration:

Up to 2 years (subject to continued enrollment at TU Darmstadt), starting in October 2023

Funding:

Tax-free scholarships of EUR 934.00/month plus relocation support of up to EUR 1,500.00

Visit www.eliza.school to learn more about further benefits such as networking opportunities with world-class researchers and AI experts from the industry, our training programme, and much more.

Applications should be submitted via the application link below as a single pdf file including

- curriculum vitae
- Bachelor's transcripts (Leistungsspiegel)
- short motivation letter including your field of interest and your previous knowledge of and/or experience in AI

Application closing date for the winter term 2023/24:

23 October 2023

Apply now to benefit from the ELIZA networking program across multiple German research sites and industry partners during your Master's studies: <https://forms.gle/FrkLKQiKsPfMabko8>
